Jesus Peralta,

Attest.

Mrs C. E. Standlee and two children left Sunday for a visit with parents in Texas. Dr. Standlee remains here to look after the welfare of his patients, and Mrs. Standlee, his mother, will be housekeeper while his wife is on her visit.

The railroads have good substantial reasons for opposing statehood. For instance, the rate on iron pipe between Pittsburg and Phoenix is $1.79 per hundred pounds. The rate from Pittsburg to Los Angeles on iron pipe is 65 cents per hundred pounds, or in other words, it costs $1.14 more per hundred pounds to haul pipes from Pittsburg to Phoenix than it does from Pittsburg to Los Angeles, or nearly 200 per cent more. That is the railroads are fighting statehood. If Arizona was a state, the Hepburn bill would apply, and Phoenix would get the same rate as does Los Angeles, but the interstate law does not apply as between states and territories, only as between states. — Arizona National.
